Dearest Parker,

The children are in bed. I've been allowing them to stay up until nine P.M. Johnny still has to have his afternoon nap. For the last week he didn't have one and would get sleepy around six o'clock. I'd put him to bed and he would awaken at nine or ten making my whole night miserable. I had to put a stop to it and now he's being put to bed for a nap at 12 whether he likes it or no.

We've had almost a whole week of steady rain. I've been so down and blue. and no mail from you to make my misery complete. Today the sun came out for a while. I've been washing and washing clothes, but it's impossible to get them completely dry as the air is still damp and the humidity is so high. Everything smells musty here.

Tricker has his Cub meeting tomorrow night. They're supposed to go early as they're going somewhere with the Scoutmaster - it's a secret, so far. He also has to take a cake of ivory soap as they're going to canoe.

You asked about Mr. Becker. He seems to be quite a likeable person. I've seen him only once. He's built like Lew and blonde but handsome and intelligent looking. The kids like him. He lives in the Apartments has a small son and his wife is a den mother. Jinker asked me to be a den mother but I can't trust Johnny with Camille home alone and the meetings are at seven P.M. and there isn't anyone or anywhere I could leave Johnny. Perhaps it'll be a den mother when Johnny becomes a Cub Scout.

I was teasing Johnny today and he surprised me by getting almost hysterical. I was carrying him upstairs over my shoulder & he laughingly said, "Mama, you carry me like a sack." I said, "Yes, you're a sack of Potatoes." As he was sitting on the clothes hanger, I was washing his legs and getting him ready for his nap. I said, "Yes, you're a Potatoe and I'm going to peel you, cut you up in pieces & cook you for dinner." He began to protest loudly. I laughed, and he began to cry & clutch me as if he thought I was really going to do it. We often kid around and he has never acted like that. I still can't figure it out. He was naughty before lunch and I had to give him a whipping. He knew he had done something wrong and perhaps that was still on his mind.

I'll be glad when you're back here to help me raise our boy, they're really a Problem sometimes & I guess there are times when I use bad judgment.

Perhaps it won't be long now. I can hardly wait for the "Big Three" meeting to be over so we can all know what's what. Darling, keep your chin up and think of your lonely mommy waiting for your loving. The boys send their love, my love, kisses & devotion,
 Yours Rose

Dearest Parker,

Fresh out of air mail paper so this will have to serve until I get up town again.

Linker went to the meeting I told you about in my last letter.

They didn't do any carrying, but went to the beach for games. I guess that wasn't much of a surprise trip for Linker as they were on the beach all afternoon.

The Pack is going to have a Party at the next meeting.

I don't remember whether I told you or not, but so far, he has purchased his Cub Cap and neckerchief with his own money.

Today a man from the Java Volunteers came and presented me with Jinks's Certificate of Service as a Victory Farm Volunteer. He worked a week picking berries at Hammonton.

The certificate reads: "This certifies that Joseph Hillman through outstanding cooperation with the Victory Farm Volunteer Program of the U.S. Crop Corps has made a valuable contribution to American agricultural production and therefore rendered a patriotic service to the Nation in this year's work.

It was unexpected and I was quite pleased. The man thanked me, also, for getting him up so early and off on the bus.

When I told him Jinks he should be proud of being given the certificate, he said, "now, you're not supposed to be proud of yourself, only of other people." He wasn't a bit enthusiastic about it, he said it was only a piece of paper. I was more than a little irritated by his attitude.

Our battling Johnny boy has been giving a fighting account of himself all day. He was battling a fat tub of a girl twice as big as he is and really had her yelling this evening after supper.

I'm enclosing my two latest publicity items for the Club. It's really Betty's job, but Erich ^{asked the} asked me to do it this time. They were printed just as I wrote them. I worded them a little different for the Press but they changed it and just stated the facts & printed the names.

I've started on another rag rug. This one will be square and it's for the spot in the kitchen in front of the sink. That's where My linoleum wears out first.

I hope I can finish it before the linoleum starts to wear through.

Are you taking care of yourself?
I hope you are. No mail again today. I hope you haven't again got the notion that I've not been writing regularly. Here are the dates for the past couple months - May 10, 12, 14, 16, 18, 19, 21, 22, 25, 27, 28, 29, 31 June 1, 3, 4, 5, 7, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 15 - Card, 15, (18, 18, 19 same letter), 21, 22, 23, 24, 26, 27, 28-29-30, July 2, 4, 6, 8, 10 Card, 11, 13, 15, 16, 18, & this one. That's about 44 letters. So don't be blue, you should be getting lots of mail darling. I'm going down to mail this now and come back to bed a perhaps dream of my beloved.
The other night I dreamed you were home.
Today Johnny was telling the neighbors that his daddy was home. All my love and devotion, darling always,
Yours, Rose

Dearest Parker,

I worked and worked all week. The house is spotless and I'm so darn tired. Tonight I decided to relax a bit by going to a movie. Johnny went to sleep early so I planned to see an early show and be home early. On my way up town who should I meet but Mildred Lemayon, she came to Norma's this week ~~and~~ ^{with} the children and this was the first I had seen of her. She looks the same as ever and still having trouble keeping ^{after} Frank to make his regular support payments. Her latest worry is that he's planning to skip out to Calif. What a skunk! He had his girlfriend here in Atlantic City on a vacation trip a couple weeks ago.

Mildred was going to a movie too, so we went together to the Colonial + saw "Those Endearing Young Charnes". I liked it.

She had a date to meet Norma and Ello at Bensons so I left her in front of Bensons and came on home. Mrs.

Sheppard has Norma on the Pau and is spreading gossip about her all over the Village.

I certainly don't want to be seen in Norma's company anywhere by any of the Villagers.

There are plenty of people who would delight in having something on me.

ho hum!

No mail from you all week and I'm desolate.

I can hardly wait till

2.

You get home to take me out again, like beginning to feel like an old stick in the mud.

I suppose you'll want to stay at home during all your leave though. I sure would like for us to do the boardwalk from one end to the other. In tonight's movie there was a short feature,

"Coney Island, America's Wonderland" or some title to that effect. It showed a sailor and his bride taking on all the rides at Coney Island and all the sights; it was in Technicolor and very interesting.

I Mailed the wrapping Paper You requested but I suppose it will be months before it reaches you even though it was sent first Class.

Darling, soon you'll be home again and I'll be cooking all your favorite dishes, what a wonderful and happy time that should be. The waiting becomes more and more difficult.

To feel your arms and your lips would be heaven itself.

Chin up, darling, it must be soon.
Love and Kisses from the boys.
My all, Plus, to you. Your devoted,
Wife.

July 22, 1945

Dearest Parker,

I had to take it easy all day, too exhausted to do a thing.

I went to bed around one o'clock. Johnny awoke at 11:30 and came downstairs while I was finishing your letter. He wanted a glass of milk so we both had a little snack of Cereal and went to bed.

He insisted on sleeping in Daddy's Place. I went to sleep and an hour or so later, he awakened me. He wanted to go back to his bed. Then a Couple of hours later I heard a terrific pounding on Betty Newman Hyde's door. I looked out and saw someone in ^{what looked like} a white uniform and thinking it was her brother I went down to tell him she was working. When I opened the door, I was surprised to see her husband there. He had a 48 hr. ~~fever~~ ^{fever}.

It was 4 am. the front door was locked and I didn't know whether she was in or still working or out somewhere. This morning she told me she came in at 3. she worked eleven hours and was dead tired. That was why the noise didn't awaken her immediately.

I sent him to the maintenance office to have someone let him in. While he was leaving she came to the window and then down stairs to let him in.

I couldn't get back to sleep. The church bells rang at 5:30 so I got up and went to 6 o'clock mass. It was deliciously cool out that early. All day I tried to get forty winks but no soap. After supper tonight I went to bed and slept ~~off~~ ^{and} until 9:15. I shaved the

2. ~~hop~~ off to bed. Johnny was in at 6. So I'll probably have another session with him tonight. I can't understand why he needs a nap. None of the small kids around here get a nap during the day, but they usually are in bed by seven-thirty. Johnny can't even make it till seven sometimes.

I've been so low all day. It seems everyone's husband gets home but mine. I know our turn will come, but it seems so far off sometimes.

Golly, it would be the most wonderful thing in the world if it develops that you're at this moment headed for the States. The Halsey's 3rd Fleet the radio tells ~~us~~, has been maintaining radio silence for many clap now and clie wondering also, if you're out there somewhere.

Trinder wants to go to Pick Blueberries. He and Ewald are going to try to get some information about it tomorrow. Someone told him that snakes feed on blueberries so he has been a little leery about it.

I miss my darling so much it seems like years and years since we've seen you.

The Children send their best love and kisses, as does your ever devoted,

Wife.

July 24, 1945

Dearest Parker,

The children have been asleep a couple hours now. The radio is softly playing "Silver Threads Among the Gold" — Darling I am growing old — — —

I've been working on the rag rug I told you I'm making. The Pantry is neat and clean again. I'm using the Machine to sew the rag pieces together. I always used to have to clean the Pantry before I could get out the sewing machine. It always was surrounded by junk. I'm gradually getting rid of all the non-essentials around here. My next job is the children's tarp in the living room closet. I would like to paint the inside of it, but I have already decided not to do any more painting in this house.

Shortly after I called up to Sinker to get the lights off up stairs, Johnny came down to get his Pajamas buttoned.

That was just a stall, 'cause he can do that himself. He curled up on the Studio and I didn't say anything because I knew soon he would be sound asleep. He was listening to soft music and soon he was sleeping soundly and even snoring a little.

I carried him up to bed. He clutched my neck as I laboriously climbed the stairs.

I had to send Irene an S.O.S. for money. I borrowed ten dollars. Sinker's shoes unexpectedly fell apart and I had no money to get him new ones.

Irene wants us to come over to Ocean City Thursday and spend the night. I suppose we'll arrange things like the last time. The children at church and I at your Mother's to sleep.

 She has an item in today's News concerning Point Bar charges for Navy men, and as you said, they certainly make it difficult. 55 is the minimum no. of points. One allowed for each year (age) and one for each year month of active service.
 I guess that kind of lets you out, doesn't it? We would have to have at least ~~four~~ years of active service to be eligible for release under the present plan.

On Monday I'll have to get My sixth Bulletin out for the Club. I'm wondering what kind of material I'll get this time to work from.

I've been so worried about you I can't get myself out of the dumps. Guess Irene knew that when she asked me to come over to O.C.

Darling, will it be soon?

Perhaps you're on the way home now. How wonderful that would be. I feel so lost now, and so alone. I have not one friend in Atlantic City. Guess that's my own fault, I'm so eccentric.
Just our children, and what a consolation they are, even when I have to punish them they love me. You and our children are my only true loves, I guess, in spite of all my shortcomings you love me still.

Darling, God give all our love. Your devoted wife, always.

July 25, 1945

Dearest Parker,

I've been preparing the children's clothes and getting everything ready for tomorrow's trip to Ocean City. Everything is about done, even to the freshly scrubbed necks, ears, and faces of three certain young rascals.

I sent Johnny off to the Barber shop today with Ginker. Acting on a sudden whimsy I said, "Get Johnny a G.I. Haircut this time." I was curious to see what it would look like. Well, I can't decide now whether I like it or not on him, Ginker says he looks cute. Theresa came over from Sea Isle to spend the day and she said he looks sweet.

Harmoner, she still undecided she wondering what Dad will say when he sees him tomorrow.

Theresa bought me some fish and some string beans out of Mom's garden. We had both for Supper. I failed the fish & then took the bones out and made fish cakes. The kids prefer that way. They always groan whenever I cook fish with bones — Just like their Pop!

"Remember when I first met you my lips were so afraid to say 'I love you' I loved you then and I still do, I can't remember when I didn't love you" Just a few lines from a song I heard a few nights ago. Nice?

I feel like an old unwanted old maid. Wish you'd hurry back and change all that. I'd give anything to be able to see you or feel you near me, dearest one.
Love and kisses from our boop, my all and all my devotion, ^{always,} your Wife

July 26, 1945

Dearest Parker,

This will be a sort of diary about our visit in Ocean City and will be mailed when we return to Atlantic City.

If it rained today, we had planned to postponed the visit as it would be rather an ordeal to spend the time in an apartment with six children. The children were up early as usual this morning. It looked as though it would be a cloudy day and like rain, so I told Parker to go and phone ~~at~~ Irene and ask her if it were raining in Ocean City. He called her and she said it was clear there and to come ahead.

While Parker was phoning, Mildred came over and she sat and sat - We didn't get a chance to leave until 12:15. We had lunch in Ocean City at Irene's. We were to spend today at Irene's and tomorrow at Mother's. After lunch the children got into their bathing Suits and scooted off to the beach with Johnny Williams. We didn't see them again until six o'clock when Johnny brought them back. They had the twice of their lives. All went bathing in ^{the} Flanders Pools, even our Johnny. After the children left, Irene and I sat on the porch for a while ~~then~~ we got in the car and went up-town and did some shopping, came back and I helped get dinner ready.

The gang trooped in at six. Johnny asked me what kind of cocktail I wanted. They always have Martinis - I said no Martini for me - I hate them. So we had a glass of beer. While sipping the beer, I said, "my favorite Cocktail is an old fashioned." Johnny said, "Why didn't you ~~any one~~, old ~~have~~ had you one."

I didn't think he would have the Bitters.

After the children were dressed, we had dinner and after that, quite a stack of dishes to wash and dry. The children Irker + Cecille went to the movies with Johnny. Mary Lou took our Johnny ^{out} for a walk on the boardwalk. She took him to the Playland and he had a grand time riding on the Fire Engine, Sailboat, ^{airplanes} and the rest of the attractions. All three certainly had a busy day! After the children left for the evening, Irene and I went to the Methodist Church (are you flabbergasted?) - now don't get excited, it wasn't a service, all the choirs in Ocean City get together there and have a sort of 'Sing'. A woman teaches them how to sing all types of songs. We were there ~~until~~ ^{from} 8:00 P.M. until 9:30 and I really enjoyed it and learned what a lot of practicing it takes to really be able to give a good performance. ~~We~~ had left Johnny home to get a nap so he could take us out when we returned. We drove over to Macuneri's at the Point, I think we had about four ~~so~~ fine beers and came home. Dad was waiting for me when we came back. We had taken Johnny over to Mother's before we left, and put him to sleep.

Dad still likes to use the spy-glasses at night. He said every night, in a house about a flock away two girls prepare for bed in front of the window and he never fails to get a good show.

Well, my darling, that about winds up the story of today's doings. If you only knew how my heart aches to have you here near me.
Love and kisses from the boys and my everything to you, Yours always, ~~R.~~

July 27.

Hello, Again, My darling,

I hoped that Johnny would sleep late this morning, but he awoke earlier than usual. 6:15 am. He played in the living room, but everytime I'd fall asleep he would awaken me again. ~~Nothing and Dad got up a little after~~ eight, so I got up and dressed Johnny and we had breakfast. After breakfast Johnny & and our kids came over to take our Johnny to the beach. Dad went to Shumbergers (By the way, Dad called me in to his room and showed me two new suits the major just bought

3. him. one, a summer weight and a heavier one, one cost $40. and the other $35 - but I guess he really earns them, he does lots of work for the Shumbangers) and I went out to do some shopping for Mother. When I came back, she said "Why don't you walk over to Elizabeth's until lunch time?" So I went over. Eli looks grand, I like expecting the baby in November and to look at her you'd never know it, she doesn't show it one bit. Richard is always on the go - he's so cute too. Alvin, Jr. is home on a 30 day furlough. He reached Germany just before VE day - He was across only two weeks and shipped back. He looks grand too. He's so tall!

I went back to Mother's and we had lunch. It was the most peaceful and enjoyable lunch I had for ages. The children had theirs on the beach at the stand. Irene came over after lunch and we went to the store. Stanton, the fine + tens and the beach and browsed around until five o'clock. (Mother came too.) We took Mother and the Groceries home and Irene and I went to the boardwalk. Johnny was sitting in Playland with Johnny W. munching Peanuts. He was covered with beach sand, from ~~head to foot.~~ We took him to the beach club and ~~made him~~ ~~up~~ and dressed him and took him over to Pennylaud to have a $4 for a photo of him in his S.C. haircut. Linker and Camille were in Gladders Pool, Johnny W. went over after them and we had theirs done too. I'm enclosing the best ones.

We had dinner at Mother's tonight.
Johnny and Irene drove us home about ten-thirty. We certainly were a tired family ~~when we got home. The children went~~ right upstairs to bed. They didn't want to come home from Ocean City, so you can see they had a wonderful time. I was disappointed not to find a letter from you in the mailbox. Perhaps there will be one tomorrow. Everyone in Ocean City is asking for you. All our best love and kisses, always Your devoted, Wife.

July 29, 1945

Dearest Parker,

Another weary day is on the wane.
Life is becoming more and more wearisome and difficult.

The children, Johnny included, went to see "Dellinger" this afternoon and I decided to take advantage of their absence by trying to get a nap. I went up to bed, but Jackie was crying and howling outside their door and for an hour or so I just lay there wondering how long he would keep it up.

I dozed off and on for an hour or two. At four I got up and came down to start dinner. It's over now and the dishes are washed. I want to go see "Keep Your Powder Dry" tonight but it is beginning to rain. I'm also waiting for Erich to come over and bring me the material for Tomorrow's Bulletin.

I've run out of envelopes addressed (to you) on the typewriter so I'll have a chance to get some done tomorrow. They're very handy and much more legible of course.

~~Yesterday I took Johnny to the~~ store with me. On the way to Atlantic Ave. Johnny again saw the Wilson Milk Horse and again he asked, "Mamma, is that a boy or girl?" I said, "It's a boy," ~~thinking~~ the subject closed. ^{But} he said, "Why, mamma, why?" Exasperating?

The stores are completely out of Laundry soap and ~~mayonnaise~~, eggs and a few more items. There has been a shortage for a few weeks and none to be found here or Ocean City. I had a letter from Anne telling me that Theresa got me a jar of mayonnaise in Sea Isle. That certainly was a big help and I was very

2. Grateful. She also got me some Oxydol. It's a little strong for my hands but I'll wear rubber gloves when I use it on my wash.

We're getting new Ration books in December. Mine are certainly ^{in a} battered ~~condition~~. The new ones are supposed to be smaller than a dollar bill.

I think I told you Betty Newman's new husband came home unexpectedly on a 48 hr Pass. He went back and returned again that same night. Something happened to delay their leaving and he's been here a week now waiting for the telegram that will order him back. Lucky?

Did you know, or did I tell you that Dave Dorn of the Bean Stores in Ocean City died? He was 39. They were good friends of Minerva and mine.

Anne said she had received two letters from Bill last week but they hadn't heard from John or Lanielle.

I'm hoping all is well with you this trip. This has been a long, long wait. I'm praying there will be something for me in tomorrow's mail. ~~When there isn't any mail in the morning~~ I say to myself, "Cheer up, better luck in the afternoon mail" - then if I'm disappointed again there's always another day to look forward to. Perhaps the next letter, when it does come, will tell me you're on the way back.

Darling, I'm existing only for the time when I'll be held in your loving embrace. The Children send their best love and your loveliest Mommy sends you all her love and devotion.

Always Yours,
Rose.
